

Congratulations to Brodie Robinson & Robert Joseph Young Alumnus of the Year (Classes of 2011 and 2013)

- Brodie and Robert are the co-founders of Anti Ordinary, a company determined to eliminate unnecessary brain injuries and deaths in action sports.
- Their first product - the A1, is a beanie that is as safe as a helmet for snow sports.
- After four years of intense research and development, the product is very close to launching onto the market.
- They have picked up a number of awards along the way, including Australia's Emerging Creative Startup in 2018 and being ranked in the Top 6 finalist companies in the Global Creative Business Cup finals in Copenhagen.

Congratulations to Kelly Clarke (nee Mann) Entrepreneur Alumnus of the Year (Class of 1994)

- Kelly continued her education after Canterbury College at QUT, graduating with a degree in Health Science.
- In 2003, Kelly decided to pursue her love and interest in animals, and purchased a mobile pet grooming business.
- Over 12 years, Kelly grew her business to over 2,000 clients.
- She then decided to franchise the business and has five franchisees so far.
- Kelly and husband Kevin are now parents to two boys and a girl, all enrolled here at Canterbury.

Congratulations to Robert McVicker Trailblazer Alumnus of the Year (Class of 1991)

- The Vicker Ridge was Robert's first owner-built home, where he and wife Tracy managed the construction, from approvals to completion, without a building company or project.
- Since completing the house in 2015, they have won countless awards, been featured in numerous news media, and have presented to industry, communities and school groups on sustainability, net zero water use and net zero energy use.
- Winner of the 2015 Qld Premier's Sustainability Award for Built Environment and shortlisted in top sustainable homes from around the world.
